SMARTPLUG WELCOMES THREE NEW TEAM MEMBERS

To keep up with its continued growth, SmartPlug Systems brings on three new employees. Christine Scott, Kristian Wiles and Lou Anne Barnes join the company as great assets to take the company to the next level.

Scott joins the team as director of marketing. She has an extensive background in marketing and advertising through 20 years in the promotional product market. Scott's knowledge of product development, branding and logistics from inception to launch and distribution is an invaluable advantage to SmartPlug. She's a certified rescue scuba diver, sailboat racer and recreational boater.

Leading new business development, Kristian Wiles' primary focus is to expand SmartPlug into the trucking, RV and electric vehicle markets. He has years of experience in grant writing and administration, as well as partnership development with local, state and federal agencies.

Lou Anne Barnes joins the company as corporate controller. She started her career in public accounting with Ernst and Young and has grown her experience in the private industry at the controller/CFO levels. Barnes also has a background in manufacturing and distribution.
